

BAXTER PRELIMINARY CITY PLAN

The Baxter Development is located in Louisville Kentucky and successfully blends residential and commercial uses into an existing urban neighborhood. The overall design of the project directly relates to the existing urban fabric through strong pedestrian connectivity and architectural materials, style, scale. In order to maximize densities, the buildings wrap a centrally located parking garage that is hidden from public view. G2 provided the preliminary plans for city approval and is currently preparing the construction documentation and planting design for the courtyards, streetscape, outdoor dining spaces and community pool.
