Spring-Sandusky Streetscape Improvements, Columbus, OH

The Spring/Sandusky interchange greatly improved east/west access through the heart of Columbus, but the interchange also threatened historic neighborhoods immediately north of the Arena district. To help alleviate higher traffic volumes through these neighborhoods, Columbus hired the design team to study strategies that addressed traffic calming measures. The design solution encompassed a series of streetscape improvements at nine different locations throughout the Harrison West and Victorian Village neighborhoods that focused on landscape aesthetics and pedestrian safety.
