

TED LEWIS PARK MASTERPLAN

Ted Lewis Park is a 23-acre public park in the center of Circleville. Aging park facilities and infrastructure caused Recreation and Parks to contact G2 for a new Master Plan. The plan introduces an organized and strategic approach to renovating the entire park. We generated an updated program that coincides with the City's needs and the public's wants and wishes. Through a series of meetings with City leaders, Parks & Recreation and Engineering staff and stakeholders, G2 offered valuable information and suggestions for park improvements. G2 managed over 80 public survey responses, 4 public meetings and 2 youth engagement sessions to plan the future of Ted Lewis Park. The master plan integrates both public and private participation, and produced a strategic vision for the future.
